Achievement Innovation Engagement Performance

For 35 years, we've been developing and operating award-winning senior living communities throughout the United States. Known for our stylish design and impressive amenities, we are driven by our passion, commitment, and continuous approach to learning.

Skillfully navigating the complex licensing and regulatory landscape, we have become successful at launching thriving communities, many in high barrier-to-entry areas. Our communities are accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF), going above and beyond state and federal mandates—because it's absolutely worth every bit of effort to offer residents and their families the peace of mind and confidence of third party accreditation.

We are pioneering the next generation of healthcare delivery through onsite collaboration with healthcare providers. Our SRG Assure program lowers hospital readmission rates well below the national average. Working with health delivery systems, we can provide our residents in-home access to telemedicine and onsite clinical visits including lab collection and testing. SRG leads the industry with some of the most progressive approaches to holistic vitality and health related protocols in the country.

Learning is a lifelong process

Achievement Innovation Engagement Performance

What do we attribute decades of growth and success to? Looking ahead and looking beyond. That means being out in front of lifestyle trends, wellness research, and interactive programs for mind, body, and spirit vitality. We have been at the forefront of the evolution of senior living since we began, contributing to resident satisfaction and happiness,

Branded programs like Genuine Hospitality, SynRGy, Zest Wellness, SRG Assure, and others are the cumulative result of our pioneering spirit. Our communities offer a continuum of life solutions from resort-like independent living opportunities to specialized assisted living and memory care services. We provide access to onsite rehabilitative services and medical clinics to offer more assistance under one roof. We custom tailor our services to fit our residents' care needs, scaling up as needed and utilizing the latest care methods and technology.

While it proves to be an excellent business and operational strategy, our future-facing approach is born from a deeper sense of opportunity and obligation to raise the bar and advance the cause of extending later-in-life vitality—in which we fervently believe.

Connection is the key to a more vibrant life

Achievement Innovation Engagement Performance

Engagement today is not about lifespan, but healthspan—not just living longer but living a rewarding life for longer. That’s what draws residents to communities, provides purposeful involvement and offers the opportunity to increase longevity.

Involvement, passion, energy, wonder, and camaraderie—these are the feelings and motivations that drive us throughout our lives. It’s a mistake to associate “old age” with a lack of determination or opportunities. We are about more than just the state-of-the-art amenities and thoughtfully designed communities we create—we’re about connecting family and friends, increasing health, wellbeing, and quality of life, and a strengthened sense of purpose. All of this is made possible by team members who prioritize engagement and connectivity.

When we build a community, we take into account everything from the physical building and surrounding grounds to the architecture and décor: all of the building and design details are examined and evaluated on how they will support community engagement. It’s not just bringing people together but bringing people together in the right environment that will set the tone for community engagement.

SILVER SPRINGS

Achievement Innovation Engagement Performance

Intentions, opportunities, and breakthrough ideas cannot come to fruition without a commitment to great execution and outcomes. Whether the careful hiring and training of our team members, the development of social, recreational, and intellectual opportunities for residents, exceptional cuisine, resort-like ambiance, or rehabilitation protocols—we strive to deliver both experiences and results at the highest possible level. Maybe that’s why, whether our goals are based on operational, resident satisfaction, or purely financial considerations, SRG has consistently reached—or exceeded—its targets, since our beginning in 1988.

Age is just a state of mind

What compels us

We believe that we all grow from experiences throughout our lifetimes—treasured archives of character and wisdom. That every life stage deserves its own kind of support and access to fulfilling opportunities. That our aging population deserves the best possible environments and resources for optimal enjoyment and meaning late in life. The notion of healthspan—better, longer living—needs to replace lifespan and become a goal for every human life.

The Power of We defines individual empowerment through collective means, with family, friends, team members, activities, and resources all playing significant roles in the vitality and attitude of each SRG resident—and ultimately making a difference in the lives we touch, everyday.

Residents staying engaged at Casino Night

A category of one location

When considering market opportunities, we start with area population trends; is it under or over-served? Does the area support communities at a variety of price points?

Even with an apparently saturated marketplace, untapped demand can exist. We frequently develop in high barrier-to-entry markets, where supply is constrained and competition limited. Through the years, we have become skilled at solving challenging entitlement issues, allowing us to create impressive purpose-built communities crafted for the style and culture of its area.

Strong in-house support and measured continual growth allows SRG to evolve our process and capitalize on our achievements, learning from what works best in each unique environment. These adaptations help to push us forward in everything we do and contribute to our overall long-run success.

Pioneering the fully-engaged life

Not surprisingly, our residents enjoy a blend of comfort, style, social opportunities, world-class recreation and advanced wellness programs that are in a category all their own. At SRG, fine restaurants and spas commingle with an eclectic blend of robust resort and campus-like amenities to nourish the mind, body and spirit—in communities prized for their inviting atmosphere. No wonder so many of our residents and their families have become our most passionate advocates, welcoming an even wider group of friends into their communities.

Rising to the healthcare challenge

Looking forward, healthcare is changing in both how and where it is delivered. Integrating healthcare provider systems on site to increase access to quality services, faster and more efficiently supports our already robust assisted living and memory care services. Our assessments, service planning and integrated clinical data systems are unique in the industry, allowing us to track resident outcomes and adapt to and fulfill changing needs. On a whole variety of fronts—from high-tech to high-touch—we seek to optimize our residents' healthspan, whatever their needs. Our mission and reputation demand it.

What comes of the collaboration between residents and staff is much greater than any one individual

People make all the difference

We're in the experience business—and experiences begin with human connection. That's why our hiring, training, and culture-creation programs are among the most ambitious anywhere.

Many of our employees see their work not just as a job, but a calling to create inspiring communities and rewarding lifestyles for our residents. Things like truly making a difference in someone's life and being part of an extended family are intangible benefits that our team enjoys, and our residents can feel it too. It's one more way the Power of We elevates and defines all we do.

Robust operating manuals guide each department. Weekly and monthly reports, audits, checklists, and meetings assure a detailed picture of the operational and financial health of each community.

Our Zest employee wellness and SynRGy learning and recognition programs seek to keep employees engaged. Ultimately, creating a culture of service is a huge advantage—as demonstrated by SRG Strong, an employee-led campaign, and supported by our employee engagement platform.

Over 30 years of experience and passion

Over the next decade, millions of Americans will make independent & assisted living choices

If you listen carefully, you can see the future

Change is a constant—especially in the rapidly evolving senior living space. Over the next decade, millions of Americans will make independent and assisted living choices, with each new group expecting more opportunities and fewer compromises. The huge Baby Boomer population, in particular, identifies with vitality, freedom, discovery and adventure. Accommodating their lifestyle and dreams will drive innovation and adaptation for years to come.

Our communities—their design, amenities, programs and services have become more impressive over time—and will continue to evolve and advance as the future unfolds. The one constant? The human spirit—and our desire to enhance lives and create rewarding experiences—remains remarkably the same.

By studying trends and generational shifts, and by applying our passion and imagination, SRG remains in a singular position to seize emerging opportunities and answer the call.

We're in the experience business

"It's about offering opportunities to connect easier with friends and family, options to increase health and wellbeing and ultimately choices to create a sense of purpose."

People make all the difference

Catalysts for Growth

Innovative resident programs distinguish SRG communities from all others. Our focus on engagement, vitality and purposeful living has resulted in a wealth of specific amenities and activities that have produced impressive results for our resident populations at every community we serve.

Key programs are explained on the following pages.

Growing old is growing more enjoyable

Zest Wellness

More than a program, resident and employee wellness is woven into SRG's organizational and cultural fabric through SRG Zest, the catalyst marrying science-based, preemptive and preventative health strategies with the engagement needed for acceptance and positive outcomes. Zest is based on the belief that to keep pace with the rapidly evolving healthcare market, senior living communities need to deliver service components that help improvement initiatives be repeatable and be scalable across the company. This data-driven approach to population health affords the benefit of consistency, awareness, responsiveness, feedback and quick confident decisions to increase positive health outcomes and retain residents.

Ultimately, the concept of Zest is pretty simple: bringing healthy, positive balance to the Mind, Body and Soul with a wealth of personalized, enriching experiences. Zest inspires the mind through creative and intellectual expression. The body is kept in tune through daily motion and attention to nutrition. With plant-based and whole-food focused FreshZest dining options, it is easy to enjoy fine dining AND make small but impactful lifestyle changes. And for the soul, our approach is as social as it is spiritual—personal connection, a bit of purposeful reflection and plenty of carefree interaction. Actually, it can be as simple as taking a moment to breathe.

The Science of Zest

- Includes data analysis (EHR) to provide resident health overviews and employ strategic primary, secondary, and tertiary prevention strategies.
- Incorporates evidence-based change concepts to foster productive interactions and encourage residents to take an active part in their health and well-being.
- Uses stages of change concepts in training and to help decide the type of support to provide residents.
- Empowers residents to improve their health by integrating technology, innovation, and community health services to maintain positive health and well-being.

Zest Connections

A way for residents to stay in touch—and in conversation—with family, friends, and neighbors. The integrated platform allows residents to connect with team members, schedule services and more. And through automated reporting, team members can adapt programming to resident needs and desires.

FreshZest®

FreshZest is just one of the many options available on our expansive and ever-evolving, fine dining menu. A plant-forward alternative, FreshZest is centered on creating delicious recipes with whole plant-forward foods, intact grains and excludes or minimizes meat, dairy products, eggs, and highly refined foods such as bleached flour, refined sugar and oil. From delicious Cremini Mushroom & Artichoke Cannelloni and Crispy Bean Chimichangas to tasty Kale and Quinoa salads and power bowls, a plant-based diet can offer a wide variety of tastes and choices as well as health benefits.

Genuine Hospitality®

Engaged, energetic, light-hearted. It is a unique frame of mind that we cultivate in all our communities—with stylish surroundings, hospitable attitude, and robust programs centered on vitality and connection. Our residents are neither guests nor strangers—more like an extended family there to support and help thrive. It's how we help our residents feel truly at home and elevate their experience with us every day.

Dine Your Way®

When you live at an SRG community, you Dine Your Way. Residents can dine early or dine late, with restaurants open and ready to serve 12 hours a day. The fresh, seasonal, and ever-evolving menus offer an expansive choice of signature dishes, daily specials, and family favorites so taste buds are never bored. Healthy options including a plant-based menu round out the choices. At SRG, we are constantly refining our dining service and daily menus to adapt to resident preferences as well as the latest in health and wellness. Our monthly Let's Dish sessions offer residents an opportunity to speak directly to their chef and sample new dishes, increasing resident satisfaction.

ZestFit

From fearless athletes to the world's oldest yogi, everyone has their own reasons for moving. But one thing is true for all of us: movement energizes us, makes us stronger and nurtures our souls. In other words, exercise is the key to good health—and looking better, too. SRG's signature ZestFit program was created for our residents to promote the core elements of good health—no matter their age, fitness level, or goals.

Integrated Health Care

Through a network of innovative programs and partnerships, SRG senior living communities offer access to personalized and adaptive solutions and services to stay healthier, heal faster and feel better. Health care options feature an onsite clinic as well as respite care and post-hospital care, including a full suite of rehabilitation services from state-of-the-art physical therapy to occupational and speech therapy.

Our ZestFit program makes staying active easy and fun

SRG provides its residents with stability and peace of mind

SRG Assure®

A program designed to help residents who transition back from hospital care, lessening the risk of further readmissions. Heightened attention and skilled service is provided during and after the hospital stay. As a result, SRG resident readmission rates are on average half the national readmission rates.

Enliven Memory Care

Alzheimer's/Dementia Care is unique and ever changing. Persons with dementia and their families have individual needs. Our programs, environments and care approaches reflect this uniqueness. SRG's Enliven Memory Care philosophy is centered on five focused disciplines aimed at providing creative and adaptive support for each person's needs.

The Club

Designed exclusively for assisted living residents with mild memory loss, The Club promotes resident life enrichment while supporting individual interests and social connections in an intimate atmosphere. This specialized therapeutic program is designed to foster joy, friendship, connections and creativity in a safe and comfortable environment.

Why is SRG Assure important?

With over 3 years of outcome tracked data, SRG Assure has been shown to substantially lower hospital readmission percentage rates and other nationally tracked outcome data rates for residents receiving care services.

30-day hospital readmission percentage rates for SRG's residents with an average age of 80+.

vs. 20% National average of those 65 and older.

CARF Accreditation

SRG was one of the first major senior living providers in the United States to earn across-the-board accreditation by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF) and continues to outperform the senior living category. While Federal and State guidelines do not mandate accreditation, it is an important part of our “above and beyond” approach. We will continue to participate in the accreditation process to ensure that our programs and services continue to meet the highest level of standards.

SynRGy®

A program to promote team members’ growth through learning opportunities, continuing education, engagement lessons and connection driven by our Power of We ethic. It is how we stay on top of the latest developments and insights, rewarding team members through recognition and scholarship opportunities to create experiences that help our residents connect and flourish every day.

There's a science and an art to feeling good

Energizing Each Day

to enjoy the “Friday Feels”

Our communities are more than just homes for our residents. They are the best restaurant in town where the chef knows just how they like their steak cooked. They are the gym where a 100-year-old pedaled 100 miles in a week. They are the civic venue where all their friends gather for karaoke, art shows, concerts and more.

The robust lifestyle our residents desire is at the forefront of our minds when each community is planned. We explore enhanced dining experiences, from family-style large tables to more intimate nook settings to allow for different opportunities to connect—because dining is as much about expansive menu choices as it is about where you dine, and who you dine with.

Aging is no longer just about getting older; it’s about living better, longer. Our onsite recreation and rehabilitation services, built through collaborative alliances with healthcare providers, offer residents unique wellness opportunities to encourage healthy lifestyles, preemptive wellness strategies, along with opportunities to rehab from an injury, creating a space for residents to move at their own speed and ability.

Every day is a new, unfolding adventure

A Diverse Approach

Our communities range from charming boutique settings and resort-like properties to modern urban addresses, across 6 states. Whatever the style, each offers all the unique advantages of SRG living across independent, assisted and memory care capabilities.

Going back in time to the good ol' days of drive-ins and cruisin'

An abiding cause

The truth is, we don't always enjoy the attention, opportunities and support we deserve as we grow older. That's why we at SRG are passionately committed to providing the kind of communities, purposeful activities, camaraderie, and vitality enhancing programs that we all will benefit from as we approach our advancing years.

So, for us, it's not just a business opportunity; it's a highly important societal issue—and need. It's been that way from the start. That's what inspires our decades-long determination to elevate and reinvent what this most significant chapter in life can provide to the those who deserve it most.
